DEFINITION OF FAÇADE

For the purposes of these guidelines, the façade of a building is generally the front of a structure but may also include, at the discretion of HERC, the side and/or back of a building.

ELIGIBLE PROJECTS AND ACTIVITIES

A variety of commercial property improvements, including major maintenance, repair, rehabilitation and restoration of storefronts and facades are eligible activities. Eligible grant activities include:

- ❖ Signage – Maintenance, repair, removal and replacement. Signs must conform to the Borough of Hatfield Building Code and the Zoning Ordinances for the Borough of Hatfield (if applicable).
 - Types of signs recommended and their definitions are as follows:
 - Flush Signs are meant to be viewed from a distance. They are visible when you are directly facing a structure’s façade or from across the street. Flush signs should be placed on vacant panels above doors or display windows.
 - Projecting Signs are meant to attract the attention of pedestrians as they hang over the sidewalk. This type of sign is most effective on buildings abutting a sidewalk.
 - Freestanding Signs are appropriate when a structure is set back ten or more feet from the sidewalk. They alert people of a business when its structure may be partially hidden from pedestrian or vehicular traffic.
 - Window signs are applied on the inside of display windows or doors.
 - Placement of signs should exhibit the following characteristics:
 - Use of display windows for creative signage.
 - Placement of signs and awnings may not cover or overwhelm architectural details such as cornices, trim, windows, decorative brickwork or other unique architectural features.
 - Orientation of signs should be geared to sidewalk pedestrians and vehicular traffic. Avoid extraneous information on signs and scale them to attract attention of vehicular traffic.
 - Limited signs on storefront display windows and doors. Signs should be sized and scaled to balance and should not hide or overwhelm the structure.
 - Construction and Design guidelines for signs are as follows:
 - Return to or re-create period signage, utilizing lettering characteristic of the period. Sign material and design should reflect the period of the building and the original design of the storefront.
 - Colors of signs and awnings should complement the overall color scheme of the building’s façade and downtown streetscape.
 - Use artisan-crafted signs & quality sign materials manufactured specifically by the sign industry.
 - Use graphic elements and details of the building and architectural motifs as part of the sign design when feasible.

FAÇADE IMPROVEMENT GRANT GUIDELINES PROGRAM POLICIES

- Lettering should be kept to a minimum. The message should be brief and to the point. A logo or illustration can be substituted or included to communicate the nature of the business.
- Multiple signs are to be avoided when one sign is sufficient so as to avoid confusion and distraction. Small secondary signs used for direction purposes are acceptable so long as they maintain the same design elements of the main identification sign. Freestanding sandwich signs advertising daily specials or events are acceptable so long as they maintain the same design elements of the main identification sign.
- Lighting for signs should adhere to the following:
 - They are to utilize external lighting fixtures rather than internally lit plastic features.
 - The use of flashing lights is not permitted.
 - Sign lighting should be directed to the sign itself and not used to light the surrounding area. Separate fixtures should be used for area lighting.
 - Lighting fixture design, if visible, should be consistent across the façade and compliment the architectural period of the building.
- ❖ Awnings – Installation, repair, and maintenance of fabric awnings in connection with real property improvements. Characteristics of approved awnings are as follows:
 - Both fixed position and retractable awnings are acceptable.
 - The name and nature of the business may be displayed on the front face and/or side facings so long as simple lettering designs are used and the message is brief.
 - Awnings may be used on street level and upper stories so long as they are appropriate to and maintain the architectural style of the façade.
 - Weather-treated canvas or natural looking materials are to be selected. Plastic awnings are not appropriate.
 - An awning should not be oversized; it should fit within the storefront area and not cover architectural elements.

ATTACHMENT “A”

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR'S STANDARDS FOR REHABILITATION

& GUIDELINES FOR REHABILITATING HISTORIC BUILDINGS

1. A property shall be used for its historic purpose or be placed in a new use that requires minimal change to the defining characteristics of the building and its site environment.
2. The historic character of a property shall be retained and preserved. The removal of historic materials or alteration of features and spaces that characterize a property shall be avoided.
3. Each property shall be recognized as a physical record of its time, place, and use. Changes that create a false sense of historical development, such as adding conjectural features or architectural elements from other buildings, shall not be undertaken.
4. Most properties change over time; those changes that have acquired historic significance in their own right shall be retained and preserved.
5. Distinctive features, finishes, and construction techniques or examples of craftsmanship that characterize a historic property shall be preserved.
6. Deteriorated historic features shall be repaired rather than replaced. Where the severity of deterioration requires replacement of a distinctive feature, the new feature shall match the old in design, color, texture, other visual qualities, and, where possible, materials. Replacement of missing features shall be substantiated by documentary, physical, or pictorial evidence.
7. Chemical or physical treatments such as sandblasting, that cause damage to historic materials, shall not be used. The surface cleaning of structures, if appropriate, shall be undertaken with the gentlest means possible.
8. Significant archeological resources affected by a project shall be protected and preserved. If the resource must be disturbed, mitigation measures shall be undertaken.
9. New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction shall not destroy historic materials that characterize a property. The new work shall be differentiated from the old and shall be compatible with the massing, size, scale, and architectural features to protect the historic integrity of the property and its environment.
10. New additions and adjacent or related new construction shall be undertaken in such a manner that, if removed in the future, the essential form and integrity of the historic property and its environment would be unimpaired.
